THE BLACK HAWK WALTZ.

By MARY E. WALSH.

Sua

The first system of music consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower in bass clef. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The music features a steady accompaniment in the bass with chords and single notes, while the treble staff contains a melody of eighth and sixteenth notes.

Sua

The second system continues the musical piece. It maintains the same two-staff format and key signature. The bass line continues with a consistent rhythmic pattern, and the treble staff features a melodic line with some triplet-like groupings.

Sua

The third system introduces trills in the treble staff, indicated by the 'tr' marking above several notes. The bass line continues its accompaniment. The system concludes with a repeat sign in the treble staff.

Sua

The fourth system features a change in the treble staff, which now contains a more active melodic line with eighth notes and rests. The bass line remains consistent. The system ends with a repeat sign.

Sua

The fifth system shows the treble staff with a melody of eighth notes and rests. The bass line continues with its accompaniment. The system concludes with a repeat sign.

Sua

The sixth system features a treble staff with a melody of eighth notes and rests. The bass line continues with its accompaniment. The system concludes with a repeat sign.

The Greatest and Best of them all.

THE ANCIENTS ABROAD

MARCH, Two-Step, by S. G. COOK.

Dedicated to the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts,

Copyright, 1897, by F. Trifet

Entered at Stationers' Hall.

AND PERFORMED BY ALL THE BEST BANDS AND ORCHESTRAS.

Seldom does a musical composition jump into public favor as has this March. Many good titles are only the cover for rubbish, and many a fine composition has been ruined by a poor title. In this the combination of the name and music are so happy, that it is an even thing which is caught up first, the name or the melody.

Try the above Extracts on your Piano or Organ.

It has been published in the best and most expensive style of sheet music. The title page is printed in red, white, blue, black and gold, the design being an allegorical representation of the uniting in Peace and Harmony of England and America by the visit of "the Ancients" to London in 1896. This title page alone is worth the price of the piece.

Ask your music dealer to show you this March. If he has not got it, he can get it for you. If he does not, it is because he will not. In that case, send us 27 cents in stamps, and we will send you a copy for piano. Address,
